Exec. Producer, Brooke Forbes is a successful performer, producer AND business owner.

Co-founder/Chief Executive Officer of “Dealblocks North America”, Brooke runs the NY, LA and Toronto offices. Dealblocks designs custom awards for the banking industry, with clients that include Goldman Sachs, J.P. Morgan, Ernst and Young, and Bank of Tokyo Mitsubishi, and many more of the leading investment banks around the world.

Brooke began her career in the entertainment industry as a dancer, touring and performing with music legends Frank Sinatra, James Brown and Diana Ross and the Temptations. She has danced, sung and acted for the President of the United States, the King of Morocco, Prince Albert in Monaco and countless others in between. She has written original musicals, plays and shorts that have won the Fringe Festival, the LA TV/Film/NewMedia Festival, been performed off-Broadway in NYC, and entertained US and Canadian Troops around the world ( with the USO). Brooke has acted in feature films, and performed Stand-Up comedy at some of the most prestigious venues in Los Angeles, including headlining the world famous, “Comedy Store” in the Main Stage.

Her latest endeavor, NATASHA: MAIL ORDER BRIDE has taken many forms (all created by Brooke), from an original musical, with original song and dance, to an animated TV series and now to a narrative half-hour comedy pilot.

Brooke is also the producer of Feature Films currently in development including the Feature Film version of NATASHA: MAIL ORDER BRIDE.

Brooke holds copyrights, trademarks, WGA, and licensing rights for ‘Natasha Mail Order Bride Escape to America’, ‘Crapistani Bride’ and ‘Who’s that Girl?’ a musical with 22 original songs, being pitched for Broadway.
